

PRIMARY SCHOOLS

As young "researchers" in a stimulating environment, children will be able to explore the building, exhibitions and works of art. An engaging approach and creative practices capture the attention of young minds, with a new world to explore, mysteries to solve and interesting elements to investigate. The focus is on stimulating activities, discussion and visual appraisal through play.

This enables the children not only to engage with issues surrounding art and culture, but also to interact directly with sounds and letters, or venture into the world of languages. We use their impressions and experiences to come up with ideas and forms of expression that the children can put into practice at the workstations set up in the teaching area and our workshop.
