

MUSEION FACTORY HOST: PRINTING FOOD STORIES

---

Printing Food Stories

Recounting what is left of a banquet through printing

A printing workshop with Angelica Stimpfl + get-together with musical duo Addio Addio

Max. workshop participants: 15

The workshop will be held in Italian and English

Registration via Eventbrite

On Saturday 25 February, Museion presents its first 2023 Museion Art Club group activity, Museion Factory Host: Printing food stories with Angelica Stimpfl, conceived by Art Club Forum - New Audience. This workshop explores new forms of bodily and linguistic expression, via printing, starting with stories linked to food. At the end of this all-day workshop there will be a moment of exchange, open to the public, with music by the duo Addio Addio.

The workshop asks participants to recount their personal experiences with food and to use the technique of fabric printing to prepare a table for unknown guests. Their recipes, ingredients and stories will be transformed into stencils which, thanks to last-minute screen printing, will then be printed into a pattern on a large collective tablecloth that everyone can take home a piece of at the end of the workshop.

The new Museion Factory Host format is an opportunity to give space to local creative young people, and to help them present interactive situations and training and networking initiatives to the local community. It offers creative self-expression experiences that also find and provide space.